
Danuta Moon

Country, city:

Bosnia and Herzegovina

Position:

US Ambassador's wife

Areas of Expertise:

women empowerment, conference moderating

Favorite Quote:

One woman can do a lot. Many women can do everything

SHORT BIOGRAPHY:

Spouse of the US Ambassador to Bosnia and Herzegovina

Linguist and diplomat by profession. Before joining her husband during his ambassadorial assignment in BiH, she served in the Polish Diplomatic Service. After serving on the Balkan desk at the Foreign Ministry in Warsaw, Her first overseas posting was to the political section in the Polish Embassy in Zagreb.

Before becoming a diplomat, worked for the Migration and Refugee Office in Warsaw and served on the OSCE Mission in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

After graduating from Warsaw University earned M.A. degrees in Slavic Languages and Literature, and International Relations. Her native language is Polish. Her foreign languages are English, Bosnian, Serbian, Croatian, Russian.

She is the mother of two daughters.

Citizenship: American

Education: M.A. in Slavic Languages and International Relations

Course of career: Migration and Refugee Office (Warsaw), OSCE Human Rights Officer and election supervisor (Bosnia-Herzegovina), Foreign Service Officer (Warsaw), Diplomat (Zagreb-Croatia)

Some achievements: Speaker at official events on women empowerment in Bosnia-Herzegovina, interviewed by B-H press and TV on women's issues and humanitarian work, Honorary Chair for the Race for the Cure in Bosnia and Herzegovina

Languages: Polish, English, Bosnian, Serbian, Croatian, Russian

Hobby: painting, photography

CONTACT DETAILS:

Personal e-mail address: danuta_moon@yahoo.com

Mobile phone number: + 387-61051529

Office address:

US Embassy, Roberta C. Frazura 1,
71000 Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina